HOW THE SEMINAR WORKS & HOW TO WRITE FOR US

The Seminar plans each of the two annual issues during its three annual meetings, each at a different Jesuit college or university. For the most part, an issue focuses on one theme; but, at the same time, through the various departments — letters, Talking Back, occasional forums, other articles, and book reviews — there are opportunities to keep the conversation going on a variety of concerns.

Our ten Seminar members come from across the spectrum of our colleges and universities, representing varied academic disciplines and a broad range of experience with the Jesuit educational tradition. The themes we choose to explore come out of our common reflection on that experience and from the discussions we hold with faculty, administrators, staff, and students as we rotate among our schools.

So, although most of the major articles are commissioned by the Seminar, we welcome unsolicited articles from the readers. Ideally, they should be written to explore an idea which will generate discussion rather than describe a newsworthy project at one's institution. Please understand that, since the Seminar meets only three times a year, it may take several months for each issue to take shape.

COMING UP

The spring issue, January 2008, no.33, entitled "Physicality," will deal with the education of the whole person — body and mind — and range widely into cooperation between the academic and student life personnel, campus architecture, the fine arts and theater, liturgy, and the relationship between teaching and the environment.

Topics under discussion.

"Mission Matters," considered for no. 34, for fall 2008, will return to the sometimes controversial and not yet resolved issue of hiring for mission. Is there a tension between hiring for diversity and hiring faculty dedicated to the mission statement? Should dedication to the university's ideals be considered in promotion and tenure?

HOW TO WRITE FOR US

Please keep the article to fewer than 3000 words. Do NOT include footnotes. Incorporate any references into the text. Please, DON'T capitalize: chairman of the biology department, names of committees, or administrative titles, unless the title precedes the name, as in President Woodrow Wilson. We welcome photographs, fully captioned, preferably action rather than posed shots. Preferable format: a CD containing digital images scanned at not less than 300 dpi. Or a traditional print.

Send the article both as a MicrosoftWORD:mac attachment to raymondshroth@aol.com and in hard copy to the editor at Saint Peter's College.
